Weighted blankets work through Deep Pressure Touch Stimulation - the weighted pressure on the body stimulates your body similar to a massage, being hugged, or being swaddled like a baby. Medical professionals have used them for decades for the following benefits:

- Helps the body to relax by lowering cortisol, the stress hormone.
- Improves mood by raising serotonin, the “feel good” hormone.
- Helps with falling asleep and staying asleep because it raises melatonin (sleep hormone) levels

TRUBlanket - Weighted Blanket

TRUBlanket is a luxury weighted blanket with a super snuggly, warm minky cover. It's incredibly comfortable to use either as a throw or to sleep under at night. TRUBlanket feels exactly like a very heavy blanket. It's not like other weighted blankets that can feel more like lying under a bean bag or a sack of pellets. Most people love the feeling of being wrapped in TRUBlanket's warm cocoon of comfort.

- Premium Blanket and Cover - 400 thread count fabric encased in a plush minky duvet
- Small Glass Beads - weight comes from non-toxic beads which are smaller than poly or plastic pellets for a natural feel and smell
- Create Happiness - heavy weight creates a sense of calm and relaxation for adults and children with autism, OCD, PTSD, anxiety, insomnia, and more
- Raised dots for tactile stimulation for further soothing
- Extra loop ties to keep cover and inner blanket secured together
- Restless Legs Syndrome, muscle aches and pains - added weight keeps body secure and helps tired muscles relax
